Staffing and Resourcing Guide

This guide from Firm Operations explains how engagements request people, how roll-offs are handled and how utilisation targets are set. It was issued on 8 December 2025 and revised on 16 March 2026, and is written for engagement leads, managers and staff planning their next assignment.

Staffing requests

- Engagement leads raise a staffing request in the resourcing tool at least 3 weeks before the start date.
- Each request names the role, grade, skills, start and end dates and the percentage of time required.
- Operations proposes candidates within 5 working days and the engagement lead confirms within 3 working days.
- Requests for named individuals are considered but not guaranteed.

Roll-offs

Staff roll off an engagement when their planned end date is reached or when scope changes. The engagement lead gives at least 2 weeks notice of a roll-off and updates the resourcing tool the same day. Staff with no assignment are placed on a short bench list and offered internal work first.

Utilisation targets

Grade	Annual target
Analyst	80 percent
Consultant	78 percent
Senior consultant	75 percent
Manager	70 percent
Senior manager	55 percent

Utilisation is billable hours divided by available hours, after leave and public holidays. Hours on internal initiatives and learning are not billable but are tracked.

Planning and conflicts

Staffing conflicts are resolved by the practice leader. Raise concerns about overallocation with your manager early. Reviews of the resourcing forecast take place every two weeks.
