Timekeeping Guidelines

These guidelines explain how staff record time against client and internal work. They were first issued on 2 September 2025 and revised on 5 January 2026 and cover entry deadlines, time codes and how to correct an entry after it has been submitted.

Weekly entry

- Enter your time daily where you can. The weekly timesheet must be complete by 5 pm on the Friday of each week.
- A standard week is 40 hours. Record actual hours, including overtime, rather than rounding to 40.
- Time is recorded in quarter-hour units against an engagement code and a task code.
- Managers approve submitted timesheets by noon on the following Tuesday.

Time codes

Code type	Example	Use for
Client	Engagement code from the kickoff pack	Billable and non-billable client work
Internal	INT-ADMIN	Firm administration, expenses, timesheets
Development	INT-LEARN	Training and certification study
Business development	INT-BD	Proposals and pitch preparation
Leave	LV-ANNUAL	Annual leave, public holidays, sick leave

Corrections

Corrections before manager approval can be made directly in the timesheet. After approval, raise a correction request with the reason and the engagement lead's agreement. Corrections to a closed month need approval from the Finance business partner and are logged for audit.

Late timesheets

Late entries delay client invoicing. Repeated late submission is raised with your manager and may affect utilisation reporting. If you are on leave on the deadline, submit the week before you go.

Accuracy

Entering time you did not work, or entering work against the wrong client, is a conduct matter. If you are unsure which code applies, ask your engagement lead before you submit.
